The publishing house has participated in most Arab book fairs since its establishment, including prominent exhibitions in Cairo, Riyadh, Abu Dhabi, Doha, Sharjah, Muscat, Istanbul, and Jeddah.

Awards

Anaween Books hosts an annual award for short stories and novels in Yemen. Named after one of the most prominent pioneers of Yemeni literature, Muhammad Ahmed Abdulwali, the award recognizes and honors outstanding literary works. Anaween Books is responsible for organizing the award ceremony, printing, and publishing the winning works.

OUR HISTORY

Anaween Books is a Yemeni publishing house that has made significant contributions to the preservation and promotion of Yemeni literature. Established in 2020, the publishing house has published over 300 titles in various genres, including literature, culture, history, and politics.

LITERARY BEGINNINGS

Under the series 'Literary Beginnings,' the publishing house released the first novels, short stories, and poems in the Yemeni literature, including works such as 'Qarout Girl' by Ahmed Abdullah al-Saqqaf (the first novel in Yemen and the Gulf), 'Taahish al-Hawban' by Ziad Muta'a Damaj, and the novel 'Sa'id and Kamla Devi' by Muhammad Ali al-Loqman. The publishing house also released works by pioneers and icons of Yemeni literature and culture, including Abdullah al-Baradoni, Abdulaziz al-Maqalah, Ziad Muta'a Damaj, and other Yemeni and Arab writers.
